CAMPBELL WINDOW FILM

WHY CAMPBELL?

Campbell Window Film specializes in high-grade security window film and screens for residential applications. Our security products offer near invisible protection that fortify your windows and doors and protect your family and home from would-be intruders and thieves. Your home's weakest points of entry are the doors and windows, and the bad guys know they can get into your home with little resistance. Our products transform a home's windows from the weakest link to a source of strength, while keeping the home bright and beautiful.

Our Philosophy is Simple – Delight the Customer

Campbell Window Film believes in the power of the team. There is no better way to bring about great customer service than to invest in, train, and retain the best and brightest staff. When you contact us you'll know right away that you are in good hands, and we continue that level of service throughout the process. Campbell Window Film was founded in 1988 by Brad Campbell, who originally started his window film career as an installer. Determined to bring a higher level of professionalism to the industry, Brad developed a simple philosophy to build the business on – delight the customer by learning about their needs and providing a solution that exceeds expectations.

The Homeowner's Dilemma

All homeowners are faced with a similar dilemma: How can you protect your family and property from harmful intruders while still preserving the aesthetics of your home, ensuring that great views are maintained and that natural light still shines into the home?

Campbell Window Film can help. We have developed the most comprehensive security window film and screens available. Safety and security are not things to cut corners on, and there are many sub-par systems out there. We only provide the best, most tested and proven solutions to greatly diminish potential threats.

Re-thinking Home Security

Traditional home security products like alarm systems and surveillance cameras provide homeowners with a false sense of security by doing little to prevent intruders from entering the home, instead focusing on catching them after the crime has been committed. Metal bars may provide good protection, but they are unsightly and detract from a home's aesthetics and property value.

Our safety and security window films are a powerful deterrent to home burglars. They form a strong but practically invisible shield that will slow down criminals, whose goal is a quick entry and exit of your home. The layers of polyester used in our home safety and security window films are bonded by special adhesives, reinforcing the glass and holding it in place upon impact. We offer safety and security window films for your home in both clear and tinted options. Tinted window film offers greater privacy and solar heat protection while clear window film cannot be detected by the naked eye. No matter which type of security window film you choose, it will have a UV protection rating of 99.9%, reducing the fading of your interior furnishings, woods, carpet, photographs, artwork and more.

We are the only source for both security film and screens. By offering a combination of security films and screens we can better protect your home by customizing the solution to fit your preferences. Some windows may be better suited to security screens, while others are best secured with security window film. Our experts help you determine a system that best fits with the needs of your home and with your personal preferences.

SECURITY WINDOW FILM

Window Protection Without Unsightly Metal Bars

Windows and glass doors are the weakest element of any building's envelope. With 70% of all burglaries involving forced entry through a window or door, additional protection is essential. Our safety & security window films bond to glass and hold it safely in place, even if it has been shattered. The film protects from bodily injury, theft, interior damage, and the expensive clean-up process. The film not only deters intruders but also holds the glass in place in an earthquake when violent shaking can cause glass to burst into a room. Additionally, window film provides protection from harmful UV rays that can damage skin and furniture over time.
